SETTLED .- In our issue of yesterday norning we gave a brief statement of the trial and fining of John H. Doubtless we are soon to be visited by a troupe of velocipedists, and that such exhibitions will ere long supplant the minstrels, and all other itinerant shows. Would it not be a good investment to erect a velocinasium? A large wooden structure would answer the purpose and could be put up at a comparatively small expense. From the furore created by the introduction of the bicycle sold at half the price. here, we shall not be surprised to see it absorb the former national game, base ball-"a consummation most devoutly to be wished." What say you to the velocinasium, ye ardent young gents who are now in training for the coming velocipede campaign? MELANCHOLY DEATH .- Early Thurslay morning the citizens of our neighboring town, Bridgeport, were thrown into an excitement over the report that Mrs. Doreas Crooks had committed suicide by hanging.

The facts of the sad affair are as folows: The decessed has for a long time tacles, solid silver and plated ware, gold been sick; though not so much as to pens and pencils, &c. preclude her going about at times, but for the past three or four weeks she has not been out of her room but very friends that her mind was growing weaker and weaker all the time; her words and actions were such as to cause those around her to be alarmed. The evening before her death, her husband took her from their boardinghouse in Martinsville to Bridgeport, where they have a daughter living. Mr. Crooks arose early next morning in order to take the early train back to Martinsville, leaving Mrs. Crooks asleep. A few minutes afterwards Mrs.

Exhibition.-From a party of gen. lemen who went to Moundsville on Thursday evening to attend an exhibition projected and carried out by the eachers of the Union School in that place, we hear that the entertainment was both interesting and successful. The exercises were held in the Presbyterian church, and notwithstanding the rain and mud a large audience assembled. We have not a programme before us, but our informants were so enrap-tured that they could readily recall fully transparent to the eye, pleasant to the nearly all the pieces brought on the stage, and the songs sung. Mr. William McFadden, principal of the school mentioned, recited a number of poems, and acquitted himself with great credit. Miss Campbell rendered 'Shamus O'Brien," and the unmarried gentleman who gave us the information was eloquent in praise of her histrionic powers. Choice vocal music was interspersed with the exercises and was furnished by Miss Reid, Miss Campbell, Miss Burch, Miss Guthrie and Miss Milner; and Messrs. Jobbing and Cunningham. The applause of the audience was both frequent and hearty, and a number of the pieces were honored with encores to which responses were made. Altogether the entertainment of Thursday night by far excelled anything of the kind ever presented to the good people of Mounsville. When next this troupe of amateur dramatists appear before the public may we be there to see, hear and enjoy.
